WHAT THE OUTSIDE WORLD EXPECTS OF CARMEL

Californian Begins
Series Of Historic Photographs

This week the Californian will begin a series of historic photographs of old Carmel. Such interesting landmarks as the first Sunset School, the first library, Pine Inn and other, general views of Ocean avenue, such as the one pictured above taken in 1908, homes of famous artists and old customs will be presented each week.

The photographs are from the valuable collection of Louis Slevin. Most of the photography to be reproduced was done by him many years ago. Watch for these pictures every week.

Mrs. Ivan McIndoo and her three daughters, Mary, Annette, and Jeanette, of Fresno, have a cottage in Carmel until the first of September.

Carmel, about 1908, looked like this. In the picture, looking east, can be seen Schweninger's Grocery Store and Bakery, Slevins, Hansen's Meat Market, Basham's Store, Stanford's building, which then belonged to Doctor Beck, and the old Manzanita Theater.

TENNIS COURTS TO OPEN SUNDAY

Carmel's two new tennis courts at Junipero and Camino Del Monte will open Sunday, Aug. 1, with a tournament, speeches and watermelons. Mayor Smith and members of the council will be on hand to take part in the ceremonies.

The tournament and arrangements are in the charge of George Seideneck, Carmel recreational director, who is assisted by H. R. Kern.

Elimination matches will be played this week with semi-finals scheduled for July 30 or 31. Mr. Kern will receive entry fees and give information on the contest.

Although at the present time only the tennis courts are completed, eventually the beautiful forest dell in which the courts are located will be made into a city picnic ground and recreational center.

By Ford has awarded cups to be presented tournament winners.

EXHIBIT PHOTOS

Brett Weston, a former Carmel resident, is being represented in two current displays of photography in San Francisco. His pictures are being shown at the San Francisco Museum of Art and also at the California Camera Club, where other WPA cameramen are exhibiting.

A no host party was given at Del Monte Lodge Sunday night. Those in the group were: Jean Leidig, Pat Patridge, Frances Pierson, Kay Bossinger, Ray Draper, Jack Tracey, Ray Burns, and Bud Todd.

POLICE RECORDS

Since July 21, there have been 7 vehicle code violations, and 5 vagrants have been escorted out of town. As there are no signs on the Carmel-San Simeon highway, directing tourists to Los Angeles, great numbers of them come into Carmel, which is increasing and will continue to increase the vagrancy charges.

The Californian will pay $1.00 for any picture used in its columns. If you have a glossy photo, bring it in.

Peterson Elected Legion Commander

Commander M. J. Peterson was elected commander of the Carmel Post, American Legion, last week (Monday) at the annual meeting of the post. He, and other newly elected officers, will be officially installed at the Legion's next meeting August 2.

Fred McIndoe and Ed Ewig are the new vice-commanders, first and second respectively. Major Delaney was elected adjutant; Tom Riley, sergeant-at-arms; G. A. Burnette, finance officer and A. C. Lafrenz, historian. Jim Thoburn, By Ford, Gail Chandler, Bill Muscatt and Colonel Taylor, together with other officers compose the executive committee.

In Carmel for the Saturday and Sunday concerts of the Bach Festival were Alfred Frankenstein, music critic of the San Francisco Chronicle, Jack Wallace, editor of the rotogravure section of the San Francisco Chronicle, and Margery Fisher, of the San Francisco News.

Noel Sullivan entertained the orchestra, chorus, soloists, and staff of the Bach Festival at a supper party at his Hollow Hills farm up the Carmel Valley after the Friday afternoon organ recital.

"Hay Fever" Thursday

Because of the Bach Festival the Golden Bough Green Room remained dark last week-end. Nevertheless, the players did not take time off to bask in the fog of Carmel's beach. They are rehearsing "Hay Fever," every day in order to do justice to the brilliant comedy by Noel Coward, which they will present next Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 29-August 1.

The cast for "Hay Fever" is as follows:

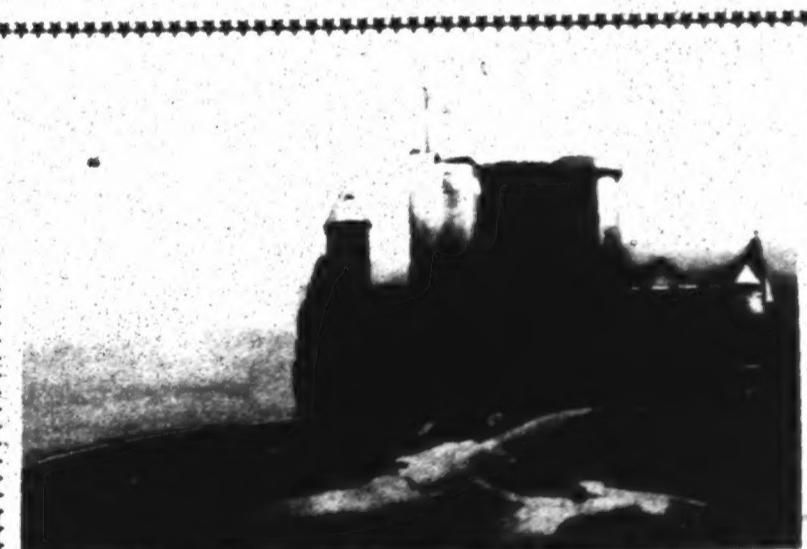

Judith Bliss	Edith Rose
David Bliss	George T. Bolton
Sorel Bliss	Faye Emerson
Simon Bliss	Robert Galbraith
Myra Arundel	Patricia Lee

RECKLESS DRIVER

George J. Roberts was fined $25 last Wednesday morning in Carmel police court by Judge George P. Ross on a charge of reckless driving. In the same session of court, Jack Vogelsand was fined $10 on a charge of being intoxicated in a public place.

Re: Boy Scouts

The Californian:

Once a year the Carmel district of the Boy Scouts appeals to you for support.

During the past year the advancement in scouting in Carmel has been more gratifying than ever before. This was accomplished only through the generosity of our residents.

As you know, our program is concerned solely with character building, physical and mental development, and the preparation of our boys between the ages of eight and eighteen years for useful citizenship. This program is carried out under proper, scientific adult leadership.

To accomplish our program for the coming year it is necessary for us to raise the sum of Seventeen Hundred Dollars ($1700.00).

In addition to the smaller donations that will be given, it is necessary for some of us to give as generously as our means will permit. May we call on you for whatever sum you feel you can spare?

This duty toward our youth is one in which we must all assume a share.

A stamped envelope is enclosed for your reply.

Sincerely,

BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA, CARMEL DISTRICT

By BYINGTON FORD

P.S.—Carmel Scouts receive no money from Community Chest. Every dollar sent to us is used for the character building of our boys.

A Letter To Grandpappy Bassett Answering Some He Has Written And More He Will Write

Dear Gramps,

I read not long ago an article in the New York Times magazine section written by Walter Duranty on all the supposed arrests and shootings etc., in Russia last month. Somehow I began to think about you—and Joe Schoeninger. In the last Scribners I read an article about Jim Tully and his great compassion for all living things because, as he says, they all have to die. I thought about you too.

When I consider W. K. Bassett, things like locusts, mortuaries, mausoleums and tombstones pass before my eyes. When you pass down the street you appear to be swimming in a sea of embalming fluid. (Well, it's the same thing.) And yet I like you. You are clever and in my opinion the best newspaperman on the Coast. But you are pathetic and slap-nutty, else you wouldn't be in Carmel.

You have a lot of good points, but you are no special good to yourself. You are a negative personality in spite of the fact that you appear to be just the opposite. You have brains with very shallow conception and sympathy. You are a carp who swims just above the water instead of in the ooze on the bottom under the water where carp belong. And yet I feel that you may be contributing something to people about you. But I can't decide why. Perhaps it is because you are so positively negative a quantity that you seem to be something you are not, like an old, old carp, maybe a dead one, which is not a beautiful work of nature any more; is not edible, and isn't even good fertilizer, and is nothing, although almost anyone would swear that an old, old carp or a possibly dead carp is simply a very old, old carp or a dead carp.

Now I think of you and Joe Schoeninger in the same think because certain qualities you have in common. Joe depresses me almost completely. He simply depresses me so that I see cadavers, mummies, cancerous growths. There is no reason for this; Joe is a nice boy as far as I know. In fact when I talk to Joe I feel as I do after I have spent a dark, rainy, spooky night in a swamp contemplating the love life of fungus. So far this has nothing to do with you except that when I am depressed, I see the very same things as when I see you. It is very odd. Don't you think so?

Now we will talk about unfair business, lifting type and design and being weak-kneed and all that sort of thing.

Sure, we lift your type, and we lift it because we cannot duplicate it and because it is more attractive than (Oh, that's alright). Our Mechanical facilities or human capabilities will permit us to create. So what!!! We are legally justified in lifting it. If you don't think so, better make sure before you get too excited. Ethically, I don't blush and sneak about like a rat feeling that I am doing a disgraceful thing. Why? Because we pay enough additional to have our paper "offset" to more than make up for what we do not spend in buying so-called exclusive type faces and hiring a man like A. Porter Halsey to "typograph" for us. If we didn't "offset" our paper, you can bet your credit that we would duplicate your type if possible. If not, go you considerably better and get plenty you didn't have. But please don't let me deter you from squeaking about it; everybody seems to be amused.

You called down the Post Office Department on us some months ago. Well, we still have our second class mailing permit, and Jim Farley still loves us. Ask him.

As to your statement that we are taking money out of Carmel and taking it over to Monterey, you are ill-informed. The two printers and the linotype operator who put out the Californian all buy their food, clothes, pay their taxes and live in Carmel. Sorry, Gramps.

As to being weak-kneed, W. K., you should know. I seem to recall seeing your supposedly sturdy, oak-like shanks buckle under you on Ocean avenue one afternoon. And I have heard that said sturdy, oak-like shanks buckle under you quite frequently after dark.

Well, Grandpa, blow your editorial piccolo.

Speaks Here Tomorrow

Recently returned from Spain, where he worked in six American hospitals with ninety-nine American nurses, Dr. Norman Bethune, one of the foremost chest surgeons practicing today, is now lecturing in the United States under the auspices of the Medical Bureau to Aid Spanish Democracy.

Doctor Bethune will arrive in Carmel this week, and is scheduled to speak at the Green's Studio, on Lincoln between Thirteenth and Santa Lucia tomorrow (Thursday) at 8 o'clock.

A group of Carmelites interested in the Spanish crisis are sponsoring Dr. Bethune, and Dr. R. A. Kocher, local physician, is in charge of arrangements. The cause is described by Kocher as "humanitarian, with the purpose of helping the people of Spain who lack medical care."

Doctor Bethune, a member of the Council of the American Association of Thoracic Surgery, was the founder of the Montreal Children's Art Center in Canada as one of his public interests. He left his important work in Canada and America on October 25 when he sailed for Spain. There he established and financed a blood transfusion service, a task neglected by the hospitals.

There will be no admission charge at the Green's Studio, since Doctor Bethune is lecturing as an educator, and does not receive payment.

Sponsors of Doctor Bethune's meeting in Carmel tomorrow evening are: Misses Clara Kellogg, Emily Pitkin, Lorena Ray, Clara Hinds, Rachel Hiller; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wheeler, Dr. and Mrs. Law-

Latest Reports Of Circulation Contest

Come in! Get your toe on the mark and let's go! The Californian's great circulation club is going to be a real race and the club member who finishes first, can jump into that new Ford V-8 Tudor Sedan, step on the gas and keep going.

The second one under the wire may take the $200 in cash and have more fun than ever before in a lifetime. The third prize will make some one happy and even the fourth is worth trying for.

Every one has an equal opportunity to win one of these marvelous prizes which will be awarded August 28. There is still time to enter the competition and win first prize. If your name is not yet entered, why not send it in? You can't lose if you work, as all who do not win a prize will receive a cash commission on all the subscriptions they turn in.

The time for securing the first 25 subscriptions has been moved up to Monday, August 2, so all club members should make sure they have twenty-five by that time.

Mrs. John Mather led Monday noon, Miss Ellen Skadan was second and Rev. Willis G. White, who led last week was a close third. Miss Barbara Crompton was next, having moved up the line from seventh place. Miss Patsy Shephard has taken fifth place from fourteenth and Mrs. Doug Rogers who was last is now sixth. Miss Suzy Chapman is also among the leaders.

With such competition the topnotchers will have to look to their laurels.

There are three new candidates this week, who already have a good start. These are Miss Maxine Harbolt and Miss Dorothy De Amaral of Carmel and Miss Bernardine Meadows of the Carmel Valley.

Listen in on KDON at 7:45 a.m., 12:45 noon and 8:15 p.m., except Thursdays when the time is 8:45 for the latest reports of the campaign.

The standing noon Monday is given with votes cast.

HUNTERS BEWARE FIRE

With the opening of deer season the forest fire hazard is greatly increased and hunters are being warned to take extreme care while out in the hills.

Damage amounting to thousands of dollars is caused each year by careless hunters and campers. A cigarette butt or burning match is all that is needed to turn the dry grass, brush and timber into a blazing inferno.

Paul Funchess, assistant to Fire Chief Robert Leidig, gives a few helpful pointers to hunters who are planning to be out bright and early on the morning of August 1. He asks that they make sure cigarettes are out before dropped; that matches are not blazing when thrown aside; that camp fires are thoroughly extinguished and that pieces of glass or bottles are buried or placed out of sight of the sun's rays.

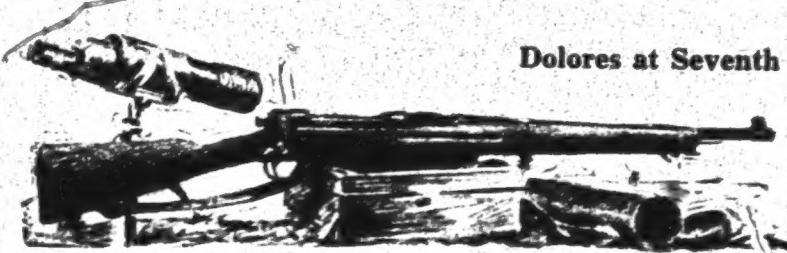

With all hunters and campers co-operating, Mr. Funchess feels

With deer expected to be plentiful (and hunters too) another season will be heralded in next Sunday, August first. Plenty of the animals will be found throughout the nearby national forest, in the Carmel Valley, and along the coast to the south.

Finding the animals and bagging them may be two very different things, for the same rainy years that have provided plenty of feed have helped the brush growth, and in some formerly excellent areas too much undergrowth exists to favor the hunter. But the deer are there.

As the open day falls on Sunday hunters are expected to be even more numerous than usual, and parties into even the remotest sections will not find themselves alone. The danger of hunting accidents in some sections must be stressed. What bits of unposted that the forest fire hazard in this vicinity will be reduced to a minimum.

FIRST SOFT BALL GAME

Last Thursday night Carmel scored a 17-3 victory over the Castroville C-Caps in the first soft ball game of the season. The C-Caps scored their only three runs in the fourth inning, while in the remaining five innings the Carmel team built up their lead on the errors of the C-Caps.

The second game of the evening was played between the Castroville C-Lyons and the P. S. E. A. teams. The C-Lyons allowed the P. S. E. A.'s to score seven of their nine runs on walks or errors. Although the C-Lyons rallied in the fifth by scoring three runs they were unable to gain a lead over the P. S. E. A. team and lost the game 9-4.

Coast Road Takes Toll of Two More

Plunging 300 feet to their deaths, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newman of Beverly Hills lost their lives last Thursday afternoon when their car was thrown out of control by a drainage ditch and crashed through the guard rail on the new Carmel-San Simeon highway between the Rocky creek bridge and the Bixby creek.

The accident occurred about 3:30 p.m., but the bodies of the victims were not removed until late that night due to the difficulty encountered in the rugged nature of the cliff. An attempt was made to get a fishing boat from Monterey to go down the coast, but fishermen refused because of the heavy fog. Deputy Coroner J. E. Freeman at first decided to wait until morning before attempting a recovery of the bodies but Coroner J. A. Cornett fearing that the high tide might wash the bodies away, came from Salinas and arranged for immediate rescue work.

A tow car was sent to the scene of the accident and a steel coffin lowered. After the bodies had been placed in the coffin, the perilous work of getting them back to the top was undertaken. The chief danger lay in the fact that loose rocks or boulders might be dislodged and crush Herb Bispo and Peter Bartowick, who guided the coffin back up the cliff. The only light obtainable was from flashlights and spotlights among passing motorists who stopped to watch the rescue work.

This accident increased the number of fatalities on the new highway to five since the first fatality last December.

CARMELITES AT BALI ROOM

The Grace liner, "Santa Rosa," was full to capacity as it sailed gaily through the canal and deposited its passengers at the door of the Bali Room, which was transformed into a replica of Kelly's Ritz Bar. Gringoes and gringas from Carmel who enjoyed the cruise were Joan Tait and Beverly Tait, Sue Brownell, Florence Brown, Betty Heyl, Happy Whyte, Marian Sutro, Alice Cleghorne, Ellen Skaden, Charlotte Lawrence, Charlotte Martin, Katherine Wilson, Nancy Gross, Frances Wardner, Nadine Fox, John von Salza, Jack and Bob Pope, John Bromfield, Jim Wilson, Jack Lawrence, Jon Konigshofer, Stu Marble, Fran Conlan, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Godwin, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Jack O'Neill and others.

Connie Bell was arrested early Friday morning for reckless driving. She appeared today before Police Judge George P. Ross.

Dessa Kehl, Carmel, received a marriage license a week ago Tuesday in Reno. She married Daniel Cook of Santa Maria.

Well Known Carmelites Play in "Tatters"

By Ford, whose acting is always enthusiastically received, is playing the role of "Marston." Robert Bratt is the Master of Ceremonies.

Ivy Van Cott, who often takes part in Carmel's theatricals, has the role of "Moses Lilyblossom" in this "Tatters" production.

Ross Miller is to take the place of Blackie O'Neill as "Major Timberlake" in the production of "Tatters" this week end.

BUSINESS PURCHASED

Announcement has been made of the amalgamation of Mrs. Van's dry cleaning establishment in Carmel with the Monterey Cleaners and Hatters. Sherman Wins-

Dog Show Side-Lights

The Del Monte Press Bureau stunt of dogs parading to post around the swimming pool while news-reels cranked . . . the dogs entering into the spirit of the parade, especially the posts part . . . the horrified bathers . . . Oh my, oh my.

The absent minded owner who mis-laid his pooch and then cried Stop thief! There the poor thing was in his car the whole time.

A case of mike-fright when one of the ring stewards tried to use the public address system.

The Toy Dogs under everybody's feet, yipping and yapping.

The applause of the crowd when they thought the judges had guessed right.

The Sealyham, Ch. Samphire Shindy giving a big (lady) Dane that (you know) look.

The spectator who loudly proclaimed that the Doberman shouldn't have won best in show because, damit he always wins best in show . . . which is a pretty good quality, we would say. And so to the Del Monte Kennels after the show 19th hole jamboree, after a few shots at the tap room, of course.

Charles Sayers — Woodcarver

Famous Woodcarver

Charles Marshall Sayers, whose carvings are in homes all over the world, established the School of Woodcarving here. He was born in Kirkcudbright, Scotland, of a long line of craftsmen. His father was a cabinet-maker. At the age of eight he began carving, and although his father gave him a certain amount of instruction, most of his learning came from trying. At thirteen he carried off a special award in an open exhibition, then left school to devote himself entirely to his craft.

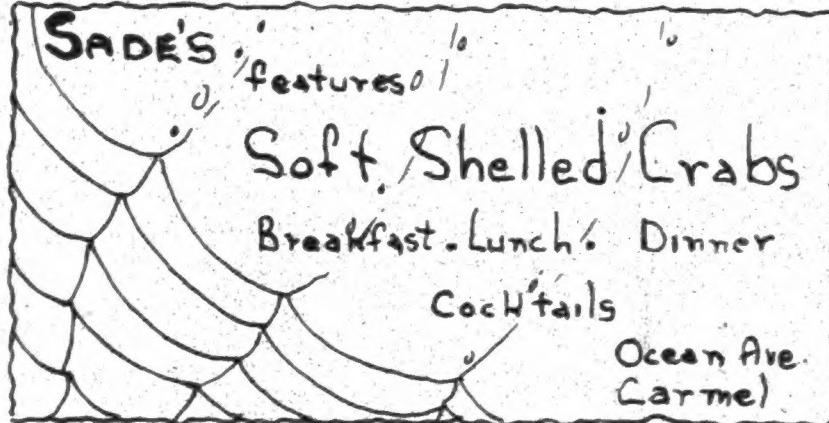

He left his native land at thirty-one, and settled in Seattle. However, a business trip brought him to Carmel, and as the place reminded him of his part of Scotland, he moved here, and nothing could make him leave.

When not teaching, he's making, on order, exquisite carved furniture and decorative articles. Wood-sculpture and pierced carving are his favorite techniques, and everything he makes is his own exclusive design. Besides making single objects, he often supervises the creation of whole dining room and bed room sets.

ROLLER SKATING PARTY

Last Wednesday night Betty and Jean Hyde were again hostesses at a roller skating party, followed by supper at Sade's in Carmel. The party was in honor of Betty's houseguest, Miss Catherine Ellis, of Wichita, Kansas, and Miss Sarah Hyde. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. David Trevett, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Koepp, Mr. and Mrs. Al Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. Hap Hasty, Mr. and Mrs. Byington Ford, Mrs. Daisy Bostick, Irene Spears, Ivy Van Cott, Roemarie Mattimore, Betty Carr, Patricia Lee, Nadine Fox, Frank Townsend, Dick Sears, Bud Todd, Bud Fox, Bill and Paul Nye, Paul and Marie Swanson,

Here In Hollywood

By ERIC COSTER

Well, here I am in Hollywood. I've been swimming at Malibu Beach, have rubbed sunburned shoulders with Cary Grant at Santa Monica, have been whirled around on the famous Hollywood Merry-Go-Round cocktail bar and have had my share of the equally famous Hollywood run-around.

It can hardly be said that the Hollywood motion picture studios greeted me with open arms. In fact at several studios the only outstretched arms I saw were those of the studio cops all of whom seem to be descended from Horatio and through the years have greatly improved upon his they-shall-not-pass obsession.

Two notable exceptions, however, came to my attention. One was Paramount Studio where the press department has a street entrance and an open door policy to all those who have legitimate business. No one could have been more cordial than Johnny del Valle who greeted me in the absence of my old friend Rufus Blair. The other was the Hal Roach Studio where the youthful casting director, Joe Collum, gave me a cheery greeting.

There may be others, but I have not found them. Conquering the walls of Jericho must have been a cinch compared with getting inside one major studio of which I am thinking in particular having spent many fruitless hours before at last getting the nod from the girl in the little glass case in the huge administration building.

Yet people still come to Hollywood in the hope of seeing the studios and the stars. Not in the hundreds, but in the thousands. This was significantly impressed upon me only the other day when I became a Boy Scout again to help a lady from Missouri who flagged me down as I was turning into the driveway of my home at 1680 North Crescent Heights Boulevard here in Hollywood.

Apparently under the impression that stars should live in high places she had gone up the mountain behind my house and in attempting to turn round at the end of the road had driven her car over the side of the cliff where it was in danger of turning turtle at any moment.

More by good luck than judgment—(c. f. that long strip of unpainted railing at Washerwoman's Gulch near Del Monte)—I managed to get the car back on the road. On the way down I pointed out Lloyd Nolan's house and those of my other famous neighbors but strangely enough her interest in movie stars seemed to have waned.

For her and thousands of others like her I intend to keep a box score of the number of stars I have actually seen off the sets.

To date it reads:

Cary Grant at Santa Monica.

Dorothy Mackaill in the lobby of the Beverly Wilshire.

Adolph Menjou driving in the same vicinity in a red Packard.

Lloyd Nolan entering his house.

Saturday night I went to see Captains Courageous, Kipling's immortal story of the Grand Banks, at Graumann's Chinese theater. It's a show you shouldn't miss and is certainly Spencer Tracy's greatest role.

Another picture I would advise you to put on your "must see" list is Paul Muni's latest masterpiece "The Life of Emile Zola." It's a long picture taking more than two hours to run at its recent preview and in places the action seems to lag a little. But on the whole this picturization of the life of the great French writer is very much worth while.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward David have as houseguests Mrs. Wallace A. Hawes of "Langlands," Cheadle, Cheshire, England, who is a cousin of Mrs. David's, and Mrs. Minette Stoheart, of "The Leines," Elm Road, Didsbury, Manchester, England. On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. David entertained at a tea for her guests.

The Californian will pay $1.00 for any picture used in its columns. If you have a glossy photo, bring it in.

Birney Adams Is New Building Inspector

When the Carmel Council last Wednesday night finally adopted the new building code ordinance, Birney Adams lost his job as city inspector and obtained a better one as building inspector.

Inasmuch as the new building inspector's duties include those of a city inspector, the latter title is now nonexistent. Adam's salary will be $150 per month, the same as before, and he furnishes his own transportation.

Clay Otto, who also entered application for the new job was favored by the local architects, but, obviously, didn't get it. Dick Johnson also applied for the position.

TAXES DISCUSSED

The Carmel Business Association sponsored an open forum a week ago Tuesday evening in Sunset School Auditorium at which A. B. Jacobsen, chairman of the Monterey county school board of supervisors, spoke of the possibility of an increase from $1.04 to $1.08½ cents per hundred of assessed valuation as a possible tax rate for the coming year.

The second speaker was J. R. McKillop, secretary of the Monterey high school board, who stated that the high school tax rate for the year will be 28 cents, one cent below the present rate. Other speakers were Adolph Hanke and Frank Shea, of the Sunset School board, who said that the school tax will be 38 cents, an increase of four cents made necessary by restoration of salaries, upkeep and immediate repairs, and the expected increase of attendance next semester.

SCOUTS RETURN

Homer R. Levinson and Jack Pelton, who represented Carmel in the National Boy Scout Jamboree in Washington, D. C., returned home today. The Scouts, two of 26 from the Monterey Bay area who went to Washington, are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Levinson and Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Pelton respectively. The boys traveled more than 7,000 miles.

A Message!
TO THE HOME SEEKER

Don't buy in a burst of enthusiasm without proper consideration—something that you will live with for many years. The selection of a home-site is important. If property looks good to you today, and you have investigated carefully all that is available before you buy, you will like it better in the future. You owe it to yourself to visit CARMEL WOODS before you buy a home in Carmel. We invite comparison with any other property in the region. What are the essentials of a desirable home-site? Trees, view, good soil, proper drainage, accessibility, good neighbors, restrictions against eyesores and undesirable businesses, and abundant recreational activities. These are a few of the essentials that you will find in CARMEL WOODS. One of our salesmen will be glad, at any time, to show you the property that comprises CARMEL WOODS or, if you prefer, you may ask your own real estate broker.
